About Dr. D

Geraldo Giovanni Alfredo DeMenna, Ph.D. "Doctor DeMento"

Born in a half-Italian / half-Jewish town, Jerry learned the essence of GOOD cooking from his Neopolitan grandmother & his "adopted" Jewish aunt.

He got his first Chemistry set at age 5, graduated High School 2 years early & worked as a junior chef in NYC while attending Rutgers NCAS to study Pharmacy. He switched to Chemistry, getting his Ph.D. in Analytical Spectroscopy. He "analyzed" the foods he prepared to characterize them. 25 years later, he designs foods & flavors for Frito-Lays and other mega-companies.

"Doctor DeMento", as he was christenend long ago, maintains one of the most extensive collection of hot peppers (chilis) from around the World.

He works for a scientific instrument company, BUCK Scientific in Connecticut, so he can afford to play. He travels a lot to obtain new "samples", and is currently working on his 4th passport.

Dear Maryann:

Buck Scientific, Inc. has received two orders from the companies listed below. Since the Instruments ordered will not ultimately go to England and Germany we thought you should be informed.

We have no reason to believe that the instruments are going to banned countries, and the instruments require no export license. Enclosed also find-signed letters from both companies assuring compliance.

Regards,

Buck Scientific, Inc.
